

Two Former Champions to Compete in Florida Tennis Tourney Starting To-morrow

Williams and Mrs. Wightman Seek Court Honors in Dixie

Local Tennis Clubs Gather to Form Organization to Cover New York, Connecticut and New Jersey Within a Radius of 35 Miles of City Hall

By Fred Hawthorne
Two former national champions will compete in the annual Florida state lawn tennis championship tournaments that begin to-morrow on the eight clay courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club, and several other leading players from this city, Boston and Philadelphia will be contenders for the women's and men's titles, now held by Miss Phyllis Walsh, of Philadelphia, and Ichiji Kumagae, of Japan, respectively.

Edwin Fuller Torrey, vice-president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, who will act as referee of both the men's and women's events, announced last night that Richard Norris Williams 2d, national singles champion of 1914 and 1916, and present world's doubles champion, with Charles S. Garland, and Mrs. George W. Wightman, former national doubles and singles champion, among the women players, had sent in their entries for the Palm Beach tourney.

Leave for South To-night
Mr. and Mrs. Wightman and Mr. and Mrs. Williams left last night from Boston and will be joined in this city to-day by several of the leading players from the metropolitan district, en-training this evening at the Pennsylvania Station for Palm Beach.

The entries of Williams and Mrs. Wightman mean that the annual tournaments at Palm Beach will measure fully up to the standards of other years, when like Beale Wright, George Myers Clarke, Craig Biddle, Theodore Roosevelt Pell and Kumagae and women stars such as Mrs. Rawson L. Wood, Mrs. Wightman and Miss Walsh won the titles.

George Agutter, the Palm Beach professional, who has been giving the courts of the Hotel Royal Poinciana a special course of treatment for the two weeks of play, has declared the clay surface in unusually fine condition, and everything indicates a highly successful tourney.

Entries for the men's events will be received by Howard M. Wing, secretary of the club, up to and including next Friday. The entry fees are $1 for each person in each event, and should be sent to Mr. Wing at the Hotel Royal Poinciana, Palm Beach.

The women's singles and doubles will begin to-morrow and the mixed doubles will start the following week. The men start play on Saturday and will continue through the next week, with the finals set for Saturday, March 5.

A meeting of the utmost importance to every tennis club within the metropolitan district was held yesterday at the offices of Paul B. Williams, field secretary of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, with no less than twenty-nine clubs represented by members, who gathered to the number of at least sixty.

Larger Body Planned
The purpose of the meeting was to merge the present Metropolitan Tennis Association into a large, more comprehensive body, in the nature of a New York City and metropolitan tennis center, which will take in all clubs in Connecticut, New York and New Jersey within a radius of thirty-five miles of the City Hall and all of Long Island. Ultimately, probably next year, this enlarged body will be formed into the New York State Tennis association, embracing the whole of this state to its scope of operations.

The following clubs were represented at this meeting: West Side Tennis Club, Crescent Athletic Club, University Heights Tennis Club, Hoboken Tennis Club, New York Tennis Club, Westfield Tennis Club, Mount Pleasant Tennis Club, Hamilton Grange Tennis Club, New Rochelle Tennis Club, Terrace-Kings County Tennis Club, Staten Island Cricket Club, Glen Ridge Country Club, Passaic Tennis Club, Atlantic Beach Club, Flushing Tennis Club, Regiment Tennis Club, Montclair Athletic Club, Westfield Golf Club, Country Tennis Club of Westchester, Amekassin Club, Colonial Heights Tennis Club, Dunwoody Country Club, Fairview Golf Club, Gedney Farms Country Club, Brooklyn Heights Casino, Sanford Tennis Club, Sunningdale Country Club and Peninsula Tennis Club.

Charles Chambers, of the Terrace-Kings County Club, who founded the Metropolitan Tennis Association and has been a leading spirit in its activities, made the opening address, outlining the purposes of the merger and what the organization actually is. He pointed out that the merger would be a consolidation of interests such as was planned.

Myrick declared that the clubs concerned would gain tremendous influence through this organization, and a form of "home rule" that would aid them materially in every way. He strongly urged that every club within the metropolitan district join the new body at once.

It was explained that this local organization will receive all the dues of member clubs, and that 50 per cent of these dues will be paid to the national association, with the other half to be retained by the local body. All clubs, and hence all delegates, will have equal voting power in the national association.

Temporary Committee Named
A temporary committee was appointed at yesterday's meeting, with Charles Chambers as chairman and James W. Myrick as secretary. The committee, consisting of Haddon Innes, chairman; A. J. Ostendorf, A. S. Hart, C. A. Walker Jr., E. W. Pease, C. A. Allen and C. G. Heylum, whose duty it will be to organize the few clubs that were not represented at yesterday's meeting and bring them into the fold before March 12, when a final organization meeting will be held and a constitution adopted. All clubs that join on or before that date will gain standing as charter members.

Royal D. Richey, of the Terrace-Kings County Club, drew attention to the added importance that the local ranking list would gain, now that the national association has decided heretofore to rank only the first twenty men in the country and he also outlined the possibilities of a plan whereby the clubs of the metropolitan district could get together and build and equip an indoor tennis building within the greater city limits.

Hunting Club for Pittsburgh
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 19.—A 200-acre tract of land in Cameron County, Penn., has been purchased by the Hunting Club of Pittsburgh, and will be used for hunting and fishing purposes. A stone and frame hunting lodge has been built. The preserve is surrounded by thousands of acres of wild land, on which there is an abundance of deer and bear and a well stocked trout stream.

Only One Veteran Oarsman at Yale Back This Season

From a Special Correspondent
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 19.—Yale's varsity rowing squad has been organized for the season by Captain Steve Hord, who to-day announced the result of his canvass. Hord himself is the only member of the varsity eight which rowed the four-mile race against Harvard last year. Coxswain Bob Carson is still in college, but is captain of the hockey team. He will be available to handle the rudder again when the oarsmen begin their outdoor rowing.

Two of the most prominent members of the crew have just left the squad—G. S. Ellis and J. F. Bulkeley. Ellis rowed regularly at No. 7 last year and was certain of being found there again this season. Bulkeley was one of the most certain members of the freshman eight of last year. Both these two rowers have been caught in the semi-annual scholastic race which was spread by the university faculty for the unwary the past fortnight, and both have left college.

On the credit side of the material of the members of the second varsity eight of last year have shown exceptional promise the last week. These include Ward Cheney, stroke, who is the most prominent member of the position regularly in the varsity eight, Carman, Mail and Whitney. All of this combination will probably be out for the first month of the season in the first eight.

Fordham Baseball Prospects Promising as Practice Starts

Coach Arthur Devlin Must Fill but Two Positions; Pitching Staff Is Intact

Satisfied that Fordham Field is in last in fit condition to start working on, coach Arthur Devlin, who is beginning his third successive year as baseball mentor at the Bronx institution, has ordered all the candidates for the varsity team to report to-morrow afternoon for the initial practice of the season. A large number of the athletes have been taking advantage of the good weather that has prevailed for the last week and have been outside limbering up and trying to get the kinks out of their arms, but to-morrow will be the first official workout of the year.

At a preliminary meeting held early last week, fifty candidates reported, the largest number that has ever tried out for a varsity baseball team at Fordham. With eleven of these men veterans of last season's team, prospects for a winning combination this year are unusually bright.

The Maroon pitching staff, which was considered one of the best in collegiate baseball last year, remains intact. Fred Waters, who turned in nine straight victories last spring; Culliton and McNamara will again do most of the hurling.

Both of last season's catchers, Cousineau and Marnell, are again in the fold. Fallon and Gately, who played on the Maroon football team last fall, are also catchers and are expected to be hard and consistent hitters. If either of them can live up to his reputation as a swifter, he may out one of the regular backstops from his job.

McLoughlin, who played first base last year, is back at college, but the other two infield positions are vacant. Al Lefevre, who captained the 1920 nine, and who subsequently signed with the Giants, held down the shortstop position for Fordham before he graduated last June, and Joe Start, who covered third base, has given up college to go into business.

Devlin, consequently, will have to develop at least two new infielders to round out his inner defense. He has abundant material on hand, some of it highly rated, but he has not yet had time to make up his mind. Among the infielders who have reported so far are Malley, who played shortstop at Boston Latin School last year, D. C. Spillane, of Boston English school, and a new recruit, John J. Boynton, who was given the same position last year. The same player cannot receive the trophy for two years.

The Brooks medal is presented annually in memory of Captain Belvidere Brooks, Williams '10, of New York, who was killed in action while serving in the American army in France. He captained the 1909 eleven. Williams and I was a brother of Joe Brooks, Purple Coach for the last two years.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Feb. 19.—Eighteen games are scheduled for Wesleyan's 1921 baseball season, eleven at home and seven away. As usual two games are scheduled with Dartmouth, Williams and Columbia, while there will be three games with Amherst, the last featuring commencement.

The complete schedule, games being played at Middletown unless otherwise noted, follows:
April 13, Connecticut Agricultural College; April 16, New York University; April 20, Princeton; April 23, Amherst; April 26, Williams; May 4, Amherst; May 10, Williams; May 13, Brown; May 14, Columbia; May 18, Springfield; May 21, Dartmouth; June 18, Williams at Williams; June 20, Amherst; June 21, Amherst.

Penn State Five Victor

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 19.—Penn State defeated Pittsburgh 50 to 28, in basketball here to-night. State's freshmen defeated Pittsburgh's freshmen, 19 to 15.

Navy Men Dispute Swim Title Claim Advanced by Yale

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 19.—Recent published statements from New Haven to the effect that the Yale swimming team has no serious rivals for intercollegiate honors this year are controverted here. It is insisted that the Naval Academy has a better team, according to the actual record of performance, and probably would win from Yale in a match of regular intercollegiate events.

Unfortunately, the teams will not meet this year. Last year Yale was regarded as the champion, and the Navy was inclined to concede it, though the midshipmen won all seven of their matches. Every effort was made to secure a match with the Yale swimmers, but the management at New Haven showed no interest in the matter.

There appears to be no doubt of the ability of Sinclair, the Academy's swimming wonder, to win from any college man in races of from 100 to 220 yards. Yale's champion at the longer distance is Marshall, who has done the course in 2:32, and who, according to the Yale correspondent, "is apt to break the recent intercollegiate record of 2:29 established by Sinclair, of the Naval Academy." Since that performance Sinclair has cut the figure twice—to 2:27.4 against Pittsburgh and to 2:25.1 against Columbia.

In practice Sinclair has done the hundred in 55.2 seconds, and his effort from now on will be to establish a record in competition better than that of the Yale swimmer. The intercollegiate record, now held by Volmer, Columbia's crack of a few years ago. Emory, the captain of the team, has done the distance in exactly the latter time. Jellicoe, the Yale swimmer, has done the distance in 1:16.4 seconds, more than three seconds better than the intercollegiate record. Actual calculations show that the performance of the Navy swimmers to be a little better.

It may be explained that the Navy has twenty yards across and that of Yale twenty feet, so that the teams are used, as a rule, to swimming in yards, instead of meters, making an exact comparison difficult. By next season the midshipmen will have the use of a splendid new pool, with dimensions for the course at either distance.

Two events are conceded to Yale. These are the distance plunge, in which the Naval Academy has never made a showing, and the fancy dive, which it has never taken up, owing to the full use made of the pool every day. On the other hand, the Academy has a great breaststroke swimmer in Quinby and an unusual fine back swimmer in McIntosh. These events are not on the program of the intercollegiate Swimming Association, but are included in the Western Conference matches.

Sweep for Navy Boxers

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 19.—Midshipman boxers took all seven of the bouts against Massachusetts Tech this afternoon. Three bouts were stopped in the second round, the visitors not being in shape to continue. Paul, Tech gave Schald, Navy, a hard fight in the 125-pound class, but the Navy man was given the decision after an extra round.

Poly Prep. Skaters Win

POLY PREP, Conn., Feb. 19.—The Poly Prep five of Brooklyn, defeated the Canterbury Prep hockey team here to-day in a close game. The score was 4 goals to 3. Teamwork on both sides was not particularly impressive, but individually the players did fine work.

De la Salle Wins Another

De la Salle Institute scored its eleventh basketball victory of the season by defeating the Union Theological Seminary five yesterday afternoon, at De la Salle court, by 34 to 15. De la Salle led at half-time, and Graham, with seven baskets, starred for the victors.

Wills Captures Scratch Prize In Club Shoot

Beats Out Lewis After Both Are Tied; Milliken Is Double Victor at N.Y.A.C.

G. S. Wills and T. H. Lewis tied for the high scratch prize at the Travers Island traps of the New York Athletic Club yesterday. Each had the splendid total of 99 out of a possible 100. On the shoot-off the prize was taken by the first named gunner. It is interesting to note that each ran straight in his first three strings of twenty-five targets. Lewis was the first to fall down. Wills had a straight run of 87 targets.

After the usual shoot-off the high handicap prize went to E. Milliken. It was quite some afternoon for Gunner Milliken, as he won also both the Travers Island cup for the day and a special scratch shoot at 25 targets. In the last event he ran straight. A handicap special went to J. F. Connor. G. F. Hutchings won a leg on the Buer-meyer cup, with a card of 50 straight targets.

O. C. Grinnell was the high gunner in the distance handicap shoot. He took the prize with a card of 24, shooting from the twenty-yard line. There also was a shoot at fifteen pairs of doubles, which ended in a tie between O. C. Grinnell and G. F. Hutchings. Each had a total of 23 targets.

The New York A. C. gunners are going to have an exceptionally busy week. In addition to a shoot to-day there will be a 200-high handicap on Washington's Birthday. Next Saturday there will be an informal team race at Travers Island among all the clubs in the metropolitan district. The New York A. C. will name a team of seven men, the five high gunners to count their scores. The visiting clubs will shoot unlimited teams, five high scores to count.

The idea is to bring together all of the clubs in the metropolitan district in friendly competition. The clubs invited include the Bergen Beach Gun Club, the Jersey City Gun Club, the Little Falls Gun Club, the Nassau Shooting Club, the Pelham Country Club, the Perry Circle Gun Club, the Robbies, which ended in a tie between O. C. Grinnell and G. F. Hutchings. Each had a total of 23 targets.
